Re: Critical Infrastructure Industry – Food and Agriculture

Nelson-Jameson, Inc. is a distributor to the food, dairy, beverage and agriculture industries. We supply items critical to the production of food including sanitation & janitorial products, personal protective equipment, laboratory products, process equipment, chemicals, and ingredients to plants and customers across all 50 states. The continued need of these items is critical to the supply chain, and production of products in the food industry.

Nelson-Jameson will continue to operate and serve our customers during the COVID-19 pandemic from the following Distribution Centers:

Amarillo, TX
Marshfield, WI
Turlock, CA
Twin Falls, ID
York, PA

Our team is working diligently to continue to serve our customers and provide them with the supplies needed to avoid disruption in operations.
