

Transport & storage statement

DSM Food Specialties B.V.

Delvotest®

Regarding the product with the above mentioned brand name we can inform you that:

the Delvotest® test kits produced by DSM Food Specialties B.V. have to be stored upright in their original packaging following the indications on the box (arrows), in a dark and cooled place at a constant temperature between 4 and 8°C.

Tests have shown that the Delvotest® test kits can be transported at ambient temperatures for a maximum of 3 times 4 days without any adverse effects to the test kits when stored correctly for at least 24 hours in between.

When this period takes longer than 4 days the test can no longer be used.

The test kits should never be frozen during transport or storage.
